"If I were as good as capturing Presidents as I am at being pretty, I would indeed blossom as the rose."—Governor Murray.

REV. JOHN JARVIS, the inventor of "de sun do move" theory, maintains his popularity. His congregation (colored) in Richmond, Va., has grown so large that a division becomes necessary, which is to be amicably arranged.

WE REMEMBER that it would be so, and verify it has come to pass. Our esteemed contemporary, the Triune, date Gen. Sherman a "Jack Mormon." The bluff old warrior will probably send an apology to our c. for making that speech from the hotel balcony.

THE STATISTICIAN has been at work and discovered that it takes 200,000 acres of forest, yearly, to supply ties for the railroads of the United States. Fifteen million ties are used annually, and they cost $5,250,000. The estimates are based upon the following figures: 2,700 ties to the mile of new road, and 300 ties a mile a year for repairs, the cost being 35c apiece.

THE YOUNG MAN Rosendahl, of Minneapolis, whose performance at Milwaukee is mentioned in our dispatches this morning, has succeeded in performing the miracle of walking upon water, but in his case it was no miracle. Besides failing to sustain him, he had the assistance of what ought to be a very valuable invention in the shape of boat-like boots. Young Rosendahl's exhibition appears to have been satisfactory to the large crowd of spectators.

THE STAR-GAZERS, otherwise the astrologists, will find in the hurricane that recently swept over Jamaica, a confirmation of their theories. A Kingston astrologer, about a year ago, made a direful prophecy of hurricanes, earthquakes, famines, plagues and wars, that were to begin in 1879 and last seven years, and this destructive event is pointed to as the beginning of the confirmation of the prediction. The same prophet says that those who survive 1887 will "live twice as long as they ever did."

IF ONEIDA COUNTY, Idaho, they are going to indulge in an interesting contest at the coming election. The republicans and democrats are to have tickets in the field, and now the independents come forward with the call for a county convention to be held in Malad on October 6th, "for the purpose of making nominations for county officers and members of the legislature." Nothing is said about an independent nomination for delegates to Congress. Mr. H. O. Harkness is chairman of the independent central committee.

THE REV. KALLOCH, mayor of San Francisco, having acquired the necessary notoriety, is to go upon the lecture platform, an agent being now en route for the Pacific metropolis to make the final arrangements for the tour. Young Kalloch having killed his man, would also be a good card in the lecture field, and would doubtless come before the public in that capacity were he not prevented by an engagement in a San Francisco jail, which is likely to terminate in a benighted man, wherein he will play the leading character.

THE HOT spot that the staunch old democrat, Governor Hendricks, is throwing into the republican camp, will certainly have a sickening effect upon the radicals. Mr. Hendricks has a personal quarrel with General Garfield, who first acted as "vice-president" in Louisiana in 1876, and afterwards as a member of the eight to seven commission which robbed Hendricks of the vice presidency, and stole the chief magistracy of the nation from the greatest statesman in America, Samuel J. Tilden. The sturdy Hoosier does not propose, if he can prevent it, to let Garfield's infamy be rewarded by his election to the presidency, hence the interested and active part Hendricks is playing in the campaign.

THE FEDERAL office-holders are so greedy for place, and prone to secure position that they have to be watched by the wise ones. The love of officials for honors and prominence, was so great that the republican party was occasioned a good deal of trouble and annoyance in 1876, by postmasters and others holding positions under government, crowding themselves on to presidential electoral tickets, in violation of the constitution. Had the fundamental law of the land been allowed to assert itself, the democrats would have elected the President, even allowing the theft of Louisiana, Florida and South Carolina to prevail; but the constitution was not good law for republicans, who managed to maintain their office-holding electors in defiance of it. It is not to be so at the coming election. A committee has been formed in Washington, with the chief clerk of the internal revenue bureau at its head, which has for its object the inspection of the list of republican electors, and the forcing of ineligible persons to retire. This movement is timely, and may save the party much embarrassment hereafter. But it looks a little badly for this reform administration to be paying for the work necessary to keep one of the parties straight.

THE REPUBLICAN party is displaying an extra degree of vindictiveness in its treatment of Ben. Butler since he has returned to the democratic party. Since Butler has left the radicals he has virtually done nothing except live an honest, quiet, industrious life, seldom appearing in public and taking little active interest in politics; but his former associates cannot find words had enough to apply to him. He is charged with all manner of meanness, his accusers overlooking the fact that he has been guilty of any wrong-doing it must have been while he was a good republican, the pet and pride and brains of the party. The latest story started against him is that one telegraphed from Milwaukee a day or two ago, charging that, as manager of the National Soldiers' Home, he wrongfully appropriated a "vast amount of money." The accusation is silly, and no one will believe it true, but it shows the vindictiveness of the party. Poor and disabled soldiers never knew a better friend than General Butler, who has been their champion in Congress and out, their helper publicly and privately. In his factories in Massachusetts the operatives are almost exclusively crippled soldiers and the widows and orphans of soldiers. They almost worship him for his kindness and consideration. Butler's enemies will find no one who can believe that he would do anything that could injure a poor soldier.

IN JUNE, 1877, three months after the present Administration was inaugurated, an official order, in which occurred the following, was issued:

No assessment for political purposes on official subordinates should be allowed. This rule is applicable to every department of the civil service. It should be understood by every officer of the general government that he is expected to conform his conduct to its requirements.

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES.

A few days ago, just previous to the last pay day, the following was printed and conspicuously posted throughout the government printing office:

Persons who have agreed to contribute funds to the necessary and legitimate expenses of the republican campaign will be called upon immediately after pay day for the money, and it is hoped it will be paid. Persons who go home to vote need not contribute.

JOHN D. DEVEREUX, Public Printer.

When history shall speak of this Administration it will be in the tone of these two orders. It has been an Administration of profession without action, of promises without fulfillment.

If the liberals are not careful they will find themselves in a very inconsistent position. The rock upon which they claim to be building is opposition to "priestly dictation," yet in their first convention we find a priest taking one of the most prominent parts, and it isn't strange that his political efforts should be in the direction of interesting the ladies. The liberals need have no fear of being injured by the particular priest who is making himself officious in their councils, for he is a brainless chap, but so consistent, the party must smother him, and thereafter keep the door closed against the cloth.

"I MUST admit that as a capturer of Presidents I am more of a failure than a success. I must take lessons from John Taylor."—Governor Murray.

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

International Thames Regatta. London, 7.—It is probable the competitors in the international Thames regatta will be Trickett, Laycock, Ross, Riley, Teneyck, Hanlon, Boyd and Elliott, and perhaps Blackman.

Stanley Heard From. Lisbon, 7.—A steamer from London brings the following news: The Portuguese steamer, belonging to the recently established Coasta Company, Regatta will be Trickett, Laycock, Ross, Riley, Teneyck, Hanlon, Boyd and Elliott, and perhaps Blackman.

Run Over and Killed. Omaha, 7.—An old man named Edward Boyle, while attempting to get on the west bound Union Pacific passenger train, at Fremont, last night, intending to steal a ride, it is thought, fell from the brake of the car and was run over by the caboose, one leg was cut off and his skull was fractured. Death ensued in ten minutes. Little or nothing is known about him at Fremont, except that he was going west and had come from Marshalltown, Iowa.

Storm Disasters. Savannah, 7.—Specials to the News report additional disasters on the Florida coast. The schooner Rosa Lyngier, from Cedar Key for New York, is a total wreck. The first mate, Joseph Bayley, is lost.

The brig Song-Praed, from Apalachicola for Philadelphia, is stranded, and two other vessels, names unknown, are ashore. A large ship is dismantled and is the broken near St. Sebastian. The crew is still aboard. A large portion of the bottom of the ship is newly coppered. Apparently the vessel is 200,000 tons. A lot of mahogany came ashore, yesterday, at St. John's Bar.

New Hampshire Convention.

Concord, 7.—The resolutions contrast the records of the republican and democratic party; demand the protection of all citizens in their rights, and the punishment of whoever would abridge the freedom of any man in the exercise of his rights, or defeat the will of the people expressed at the ballot box. The platform is especially severe against building and terrorism in the south, and says, if necessary, another constitutional amendment should be made to enforce the laws now existing, and to prevent such unconstitutional means of carrying elections. One plank is strong for hard money, another congratulates the country on the administration of President Hayes for his wisdom and firmness; and another highly approves Garfield.

Parliament Prorogued.

London, 7.—The Queen, in her message to Parliament, adds: Prompt measures have been taken by the government of India for the relief of the famine of Candahar, and conspicuous ability and energy was displayed by my ministers in the execution of these measures, resulting in a brilliant victory gained by the gallant force under the command of Sir Frederick Roberts, which will, I trust, speedily bring to an honorable termination the war in that division of the country. I regret that it has not hitherto been possible to give you such information on the state of the Indian finances, and recent miscarriage in presenting the accounts of military expenditure, as you would justly require. Before entering on a practicable consideration of the subject, you may, however, rest assured that I shall remain my pledge to supply you with the information at the earliest period in my power.

No advance has recently been made in the project of South African confederation, nor could any advance be made until the war in that region, except in proportion to the favorable movement of public opinion in that portion of the empire. The general state of affairs in South Africa, however, is, on the whole, satisfactory, except in South Land, where, I trust, that a moderate and conciliatory policy may allay the agitation caused by the enforcement of the disarmament act.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons, I tender you my thanks for the liberal provision which you have made to meet the charges of the public service.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I acknowledge with thankfulness to the Almighty, the happy continuance during several weeks of fine weather, for securing a harvest which gives, in many places, reasonable promise of abundance. I am thus enabled to anticipate both a further revival of trade and some addition to the revenue of the country and feel especial pleasure upon the probable improvement in the condition of the people of Ireland, who have so seriously suffered from the previous failure of crops. I rejoice, also, to observe that notwithstanding the lateness of the period at which you began your labors, your indefatigable zeal and patience have enabled you to add to the statute book some valuable laws. I refer particularly to your settlement of the long contested question in relation to the subject of burials, to the education act and to the act for the better determining of the liability of employers, and to these I would add the act relating to ground game, the repeal of malt duty, the savings bank act and the postoffice money orders act, and measures for bettering the condition of merchant seamen and providing for the safer carriage of grain cargo, and I trust these measures may, under divine providence, contribute to the welfare and prosperity of my people.

During the ceremony of the prorogation of the members of the House of Commons about sixty were present, including Premier Gladstone. Of the members of the House of Lords, besides the royal commissioners, only one liberal and two conservative peers were present, together with thirty-five ladies, none of whom were peeresses. The north gallery of the House of Lords was filled with spectators.

The ceremony of prorogation lasted seventeen minutes. Parliament was prorogued until the 24th of November.

The Prerogating President.

San Francisco, 7.—A Virginia City dispatch says: President Hayes and party were received here today with great enthusiasm. The people came from all parts of the country. Bunting floated from the hoisting works and public buildings, and the decorations on houses and places of business gave the city a fourth of July appearance. The President and party reached Gold Hill at 3:20 this afternoon and were welcomed by the firing of guns and a salute by the steam whistles of the hoisting works. The party were here met by Mayor General Fox and Staff, Brigadier General Batterman and staff, the grand army republic as an especial escort and the first brigade of the Nevada state militia, with music, etc. The President took a carriage drawn by six black horses; other members of the party took carriages; while Mrs. Hayes and the ladies accompanied by the train to Virginia. After making the round of Gold Hill, the procession went over the divide to Virginia, bringing up at the International hotel, on the balcony of which a canopy of red, white and blue had been prepared. From this point the President, Hon. A. Ramsey, secretary of war, General Sherman, General McCook and others of the party reviewed the procession as it counter-marched by. After the procession passed, Mayor Stephens of Virginia, welcomed the President and party and extended them the freedom of the city. The appearance of the President and party on the balcony was the signal for repeated cheers and music, which filled the streets.

A crowd in attendance was estimated at from 50,000 to 70,000. In response to the welcome by Mayor Stephens, President Hayes made a speech. Secretary Ramsey, Gen. Sherman and Gen. McCook also spoke. Mrs. Hayes and the ladies of the party were on the balcony, and the former was introduced to the crowd and loudly cheered. The President and party were then turned over to Superintendent Patton and took a look at the hoisting works and machinery. They then went to the G. & C. shaft, where the party was photographed. They went, then, in a motor car, to the principal streets where the large influx of miners caused thereby. Shells were sunk underneath the houses and in cellars, and the inhabitants are very frightened towards Martin, who was the cause of it.

Don't Appreciate Mines.

Denver, Col., 7.—Advice from Santa Fe state that at Los Rios, the new mining camp, forty miles from Santa Fe, where recently rich gold rock was discovered in the foundation of houses, Jesse Martin, the prospector who discovered the ore, and located mines in the principal streets was driven from the town by the Mexican inhabitants who dislike the idea of the large influx of miners caused thereby. Shells were sunk underneath the houses and in cellars, and the inhabitants are very frightened towards Martin, who was the cause of it.

The Artesian Well Tests.

Chicago, 7.—Inter-Ocean's Washington: The agricultural department today received a letter from the commissioner who went some weeks since to bore an artesian well on the plains for irrigation purposes. He says he has decided to bore one of them at Fort Lyon, Colorado. It is considered probable he will locate the others also in Colorado. He has $10,000 to spend in the experiment.

THE VERMONT ELECTION.

Of Course the Republicans Win.

Chicago, 7.—It is expected that no less than 70,000 votes will be cast in Vermont to-day, and the republicans majority will exceed 25,000. Burlington, Vt., 7.—There is intense excitement here and a full vote is being polled. There is every indication of a large increased republican majority in the city. In country towns the voting does not commence until about 2 o'clock.

Bennington, Vt., 7.—A much higher vote is now polled than was expected in this town, and in the country as far as heard from south. The senator and sheriff on the republican ticket are running behind, but the indications are that the republicans will win. Col. Joyce, for member of Congress, is running ahead on the state ticket. In Bennington, the republican nomination for representative is running ahead of everything. The vote will hardly indicate as heavy a majority as in '78, when the county stood republican 636.

White River, Vt., 7.—The returns of the election are coming in as rapidly as can be expected. One hundred and ten towns heard from give the following votes: In 1876, Fairbanks, republican, 25,898; Bing ham, democrat, 11,870. In 1880, Fairbanks, republican, 26,573; Phelps, democrat, 11,678; Heath, greenback, 802; a republican gain of 1,770, and a democrat gain of 8.

Congressional vote: First District—Joyce, republican, 8,445; Randall, democrat, 3,470; Martin, greenback, 35. Second District—Tyler, republican, 9,385; Campbell, democrat, 4,004; scattering, 391. Third District—Grant, republican, 1,187; Carrier, democrat, 2,691; Tarble, greenback, 323. Representatives to the legislature—republicans 97, democrats 18. There are 131 towns still to be heard from. The same proportion will give 25,790 republican majority.

Montpelier, Vt., 7.—Returns from this district show that Randall is far behind his ticket for Congress. The republicans are gaining in the large towns along the line of the railroad. Joyce is undoubtedly elected by a largely increased majority.

Brattleboro, Vt., 7.—Notwithstanding the hard campaign work, returns show that 800 less votes were polled than were on the check list, and the republican majority falls off six from four years ago. Fairbanks receiving 946, Phelps 290, a gain of 21 for the republicans and 26 for the democrats. Tyler, the candidate for Congress from the Second District, received 651 votes, as against upwards of 300 in 1876. Tyler's vote in the county is materially increased, though he runs behind the ticket in every town.

Rutland, 7.—Rutland gives Fairbanks 1,307, Phelps 1,148, Heath 26— a net republican gain over 1876 of 38; over 1878 of 354. Returns from 71 towns, about one-third of the state, show a republican gain over 1876 of 2,062. This ratio through the state will give over 29,000 republican majority.

Domestic.

Los Pinos, 7.—The body of Orray will be exhumed and be brought back to the Southern Utah Agency. The Uncompagne Utes want him to have the Christian burial.

Deadwood, 7.—A telegram was received here to-day announcing the capture at Fort Sully, this territory, of R. O. Adams, delinquent ex-postmaster of this city, who recently escaped from the United States marshal, after being convicted of embezzlement.

Little Rock, 7.—Partial returns from a number of counties indicate the election of Churchill, democrat, over Parks, greenbacker, by a majority of 40,000 or 50,000. It is believed the proposed constitutional amendment, and the repudiation of certain state bonds will fail to receive a majority.

Denver, Col., 7.—Charles Carter was lately injured yesterday morning in the Cripple Mine by the premature discharge of Giant powder. William Brennan was badly mangled by an explosion of Giant powder in the LaPlata Mine.

Cheney, O., 7.—Mr. Emory, owner of "Paragon," has sold her to W. H. Balah, of Boston, for $16,600. Washington, 7.—Alex. Martin, smelter and refiner of the United States Mint at San Francisco, who has been in official business, leaves for San Francisco tomorrow morning, stopping at Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake City, by the direction of the director of the mint, on official business.

A Big Strike.

London, 7.—Thirty thousand mill men of East Worcestershire and Staffordshire will commence a strike on Saturday against the repeated reductions of their wages, amounting, they claim, to 20 per cent.
